Aim

The aim of the RoPM conference is to offer a forum for scientists and engineers to discuss and promote advances in knowledge, research and practice in the field of the Powder Metallurgy.

Main topics

The works of the Conference will be organised on oral presentations and poster sessions, as well as workshops, on the following topics:

- New theoretical aspects in Powder Metallurgy
- Modelling and Simulation
- Sintered Steels
- PM Nonferrous Materials
- PM Tool Materials
- PM Lightweight and Porous Materials
- PM Functional Materials
- Powder Manufacturing and Pressing
- Sintering Process
- Metal Injection Moulding
- Full Density & Alternative Consolidation Processes
- Secondary and Finishing Operations
- Health, Safety and Environmental Aspects of Particulates

Venue

The Conference will be held from 8 to 11 July, 2009 in Craiova, known as Pelendava (400-350 BC.), residence of Craiovesti and Bibescu famous families (XV-XVI centuries) as well as the second city in Romania after Bucharest (1910), Craiova is, nowadays, one of the most important cultural, historical and economical towns.

The education and culture developed in Craiova, represented by famous personalities (Nicolae Titulescu, Gogu Constantinescu, Henri Coanda, Gheorghe Titeica, Constantin Brancusi, Marin Sorescu, Traian Lalescu) have been increased in 1965 when University of Craiova was funded.

Call for papers

The Organising Committee invites abstracts of original papers for presentation at the conference. Please forward a title and a maximum 300 word abstract to the Conference Secretariat up to January 31, 2009. Guidelines for the preparation of the manuscript will be forwarded on acceptance.

Language

The papers should be written and presented in English, the official language of the Conference.
